Cottage Update: Mr. Levan, Mr. Turner and Ms. Fitz visited the cottage and assessed its condition: it will need thorough cleaning, interior painting, kitchen repairs, and drainage issues will need to be addressed by a plumber. The garage needs a lot of repair work. Mr. Levan, Mr. Turner and Ms. Fitz will investigate hiring a general contractor to handle all repairs, obtain three quotes, and report back at the next meeting. The work will need to be done before new tenants can move in.

Parking Lot: Mr. Esman is waiting on two additional quotes for paving and has approached the town about the Highway Department doing the paving and we can reimburse them. Ms. Schwartz provided an update on the lighting plan for the parking lot. The lighting plan has been submitted to the Planning Board. She and the engineer, Catizone Engineering, will present at the meeting on April 28th at 7pm. The plans include one electric vehicle charging station with two plugs for two parking spaces. The plan may have to go in front of the Landmarks and Historic District Commission.

Programming: Ms. Fitz presented an update on programming: New children’s musical performer Kurt Gallagher is very popular. Reading to dog program will resume in May with a new therapy dog. Kids Script Writing was very popular and will be repeated. The new art exhibit is starting April 23rd. Seed
Library launch was successful and well-attended. New program Yoga for Mommy and Me will start in May. In-person Yoga (transitioned from Zoom) program had 5 attendees.

HR/Legal: Policies discussion tabled until next Board meeting. All respondents for the full-time clerk position were interviewed. One offer was made but candidate declined. No other offers were extended. A new list will be requested from Civil Service this summer. Opening of the library six days a week was contingent on the hiring of another full-time staff members so that cannot happen now.

Wood Memorial Cemetery visit: Ms. Schwartz and Ms. Benefico will visit the plot next week. Plot 11149 Kensico Dam Cemetery.

Public remarks: Mr. Esman opened the meeting for public remarks. Library neighbor Evelyn Carmichael asked that the Board keep not only the parking lot in mind when repaving, but the dirt roads that are on Library property, and to keep in mind that those dirt roads need to be maintained whether or not they get paved.
