The Board of the Pound Ridge Library District
Pound Ridge Library District
271 Westchester Avenue
Pound Ridge, New York 10576

We have audited the financial statements of Pound Ridge Library District, New York ("District") as of and for the year ended December 31, 2022, and have issued our report thereon dated [date], 2023.

Professional standards require that we provide you with information about our responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information in our engagement letter to you dated April 27, 2022. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

We are pleased to be of service to you and the District and appreciate the opportunity to present our audit findings to you. We are also pleased to discuss other matters which may be of interest to you and to answer any questions you may have.

This information is intended solely for the information and use of TCWG and management of the District and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Very truly yours,

PKF O'Connor Davies, LLP

| Auditor’s responsibility under professional standards and planned scope and timing of the audit | We have communicated such information in our engagement letter to you dated April 27, 2022. Generally, these responsibilities include:
  • Forming and expressing an opinion on the financial statements.
  • Obtaining reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free of material misstatements, whether caused by error or fraud.
  • Accumulating and communicating uncorrected misstatements to Those Charged with Governance (“TCWG”).
  • Maintaining professional skepticism.
  • Communicating audit related matters that are, in our professional judgment, significant to TCWG. |
| Supplementary information accompanying the financial statements               | Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the District’s basic financial statements. The supplementary information is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic financial statements or to the basic financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. |

<td>Required Supplementary information accompanying the financial statements</td>
<td>We have applied certain limited procedures to the required supplementary information in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which consisted of inquiries of management about the methods of preparing the information and comparing the information for consistency with management’s responses to our inquiries, the basic financial statements, and other knowledge we obtained during our audit of the basic financial statements. We do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the information because the limited procedures do not provide us with sufficient evidence to express an opinion or provide any assurance.</td>

<td>Qualitative aspects of accounting practices - Accounting Policies</td>
<td>Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies are described in Note 1 to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted and the application of existing policies was not changed during year, except for the adoption of the provisions of Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 87, “Leases”. The accounting policies of the District conform to U.S. generally accepted accounting principles as applicable to state and local governments. The District’s reports are based on all applicable GASB pronouncements. We noted no transactions entered into by the District during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.</td>

| Qualitative aspects of accounting practices - Accounting Estimates and Management’s Judgment | Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimate affecting the ’s financial statements was:
  - Asset lives for depreciable capital assets |
| Qualitative aspects of accounting practices - Financial Statement Disclosures | Certain financial statement disclosures involve significant judgment and are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosure affecting the financial statements are:
  - Capital assets
  - Fund balances
The financial statement disclosures are neutral, consistent and clear. |

| Going concern                | The auditor is required to communicate with TCWG events or conditions that, when considered in the aggregate; indicate a substantial doubt about the District’s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.
                               | We concur with management’s assessment that the District will continue as a going concern for one year from the balance sheet date.                                                                     |
| Significant Risks            | We have identified the following significant risks in connection with our audit:
                               | Management override of internal controls
                               | Improper revenue recognition to due to fraud |
| Difficulties encountered in performing the audit | We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.                                                                                   |
| Corrected and uncorrected misstatements | Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit (including passed adjustments and omitted financial statement disclosures), other than those that are clearly trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management.
<pre><code>                           | Management has corrected all such misstatements. In addition, corrected misstatements that were brought to the attention of management as a result of our audit procedures are also included in Appendix 1. |
</code></pre>
| Disagreements with management | For purposes of this communication, a disagreement with management is a matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, concerning financial accounting, reporting, or auditing, which could be significant to the financial statements or the auditors’ report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of the audit. |
| Management representations   | We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter (see Appendix 2).                                                                         |

<td>Management’s consultations with other accountants</td>
<td>In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a “second opinion” on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the District’s financial statements or a determination of the type of auditors’ opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.</td>

<td>Auditor independence</td>
<td>We affirm that PKF O’Connor Davies, LLP is independent with respect to the District in accordance with relevant professional standards.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Significant issues discussed with management prior to retention</td>
<td>We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards with management each year prior to retention as the District’s auditor. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.</td>

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered the Pound Ridge Library District, New York ("District") internal control over financial reporting ("internal control") as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the District’s internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Professional standards require that we communicate to you, in writing, all significant deficiencies and/or material weaknesses in internal control that we identify in performing our audit. For this purpose, deficiencies in internal control are categorized as follows:

- A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.

- A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the District’s financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

- A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies, or material weaknesses and, therefore, there can be no assurance that all such deficiencies have been identified.

We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

However, we share for your consideration on the following pages other observations about the internal control and operations.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management and others charged with governance and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties. We will be pleased to discuss these communications and comments in further detail at your convenience, or to assist you in implementing the recommendations.

Other Matters

- Capital Assets

Capital assets, which include property, plant, equipment and infrastructure assets, are reported in the District's government-wide financial statements.

Recommendation

Capital assets are a vital and material component of the Statement of Net Position. An annual inventory should be taken to ensure capital assets and will provide an excellent control for the safeguarding of these assets from theft and misuse.

- Procurement

The purpose of obtaining bids or quotations is to encourage competition in the procurement of supplies, equipment and services which will be paid for by public funds. Competitive bids or quotations should be solicited in connection with all purchases, wherever feasible, and in the best interest of the Entity. According to New York State General Municipal Law, all purchase contracts for materials, equipment or supplies involving an annual expenditure of over 20,000 and all public works involving an expenditure of more than $35,000 should be awarded on the basis of public advertising and competitive bidding. During our audit it was noted that vendors who should have gone out to bid did not.

Recommendation

We recommend that the Entity maintain bid documentation for all vendors who are annually paid in amounts that exceed the thresholds provided under General Municipal Law.
On the Horizon

GASB Statement No. 96 – Subscription-Based Information Technology Arrangements (“SBITA”)

A SBITA is defined as a contract that conveys control of the right to use another party’s information technology (“IT”) software, alone or in combination with tangible capital assets (the underlying IT assets), as specific in the contract for a period of time in an exchange or exchange-like transaction. The subscription term not only includes the period during which a government has a noncancellable right to use the asset, but also include periods covered by an option to extend or terminate.

Under this Statement, a government generally should recognize the right-to-use subscription asset as an intangible asset and a corresponding subscription liability. The liability should be recognized at the commencement of the subscription term, which is when the subscription asset is placed into service. The liability should be initially measured at the present value of the subscription payments expected to be made during the subscription term. Any future payments should be discounted using the interest rate charged, or if not readily determinable, the government’s incremental borrowing rate should be used.

The subscription asset will be measured as the sum of the liability amount, payments made to the vendor prior to commencing the subscription term and any implementation costs, offset by any incentives received from the vendor. The amortization of the subscription asset would then be reported as an outflow of resources over the subscription term.

The Statement does provide an exception for short-term SBITAs, which have maximum contractual terms of 12 months or less, including any option to extend regardless of their probability of being exercised. Any payments for these short-term SBITAs would be recognized as outflows of resources.

Further, the Statement provides for additional disclosure requirements detailing descriptive information about the SBITA, including but not limited to the amount of the subscription asset, accumulated amortization, other payments not included in the measurement liability, principal and interest requirements and any other essential information.

Governments should review this standard early to anticipate what changes might need to be made to policies, accounting procedures, laws and regulations. The provisions of this Statement are effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2022 (i.e., the Entity’s financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023).
